Attention: Wade Hampton

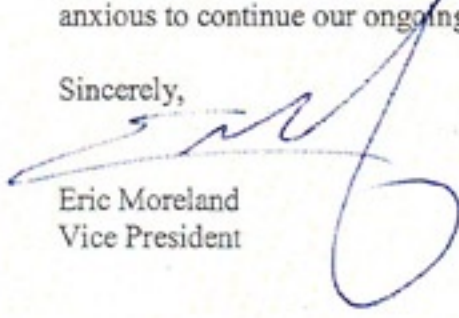

Dear Mr. Hampton,

I wanted to take a moment to inform you of the high regard in which we hold your company. Throughout our history of doing business together, you have provided quality products and services in a most timely and professional manner. The projects that you have completed for us have been critical to our infrastructure improvement objectives; including your design, manufacture, and installation of our rear staircase and the erection of our high capacity conduit storage systems.

Furthermore, your company has become one of the key sub-manufacturers of our custom engineered in-floor utility systems. Particularly, Swade Welding proved to be our most reliable supplier for the system that we furnished for the Boston Convention and Exhibition Center. At the time, this facility was the largest of its kind ever built and our company completed the design and manufacture of the in-floor utility system in less than nine months. The facility remains the largest building in Boston and the exhibition hall (where our products were deployed) is large enough to accommodate the Empire State Building when turned on its side.

The entire family at Jaymore wishes you continued success and prosperity and we are anxious to continue our ongoing business relationship.

Sincerely,

Eric Moreland
Vice President
